

To Planet Earth!

HAVE FUN!

By Gina Bellisario

Discuss

Talk through your thoughts.

- Before reading, find the glossary on page 23 and have another reader help you read and understand the vocabulary used in the book.
- Talk with someone about what you know about the planet Earth and other things in space.

Create

Make an experience of your own.

- Thinking about what you read, create a story with pictures and words describing your own outer space adventure!
- Create a song to help you learn the names of the planets in order. With permission, find songs on the internet.

Imagine

Use your imagination to explore.

- Explore planet Earth. Keep a journal about what you notice about the Earth during the day, the night, and throughout the months of the year.
- Find the activity page in the book and explore the activities listed there!

Explore

Like this book? Find more:

- Earth by Quinn M. Arnold
- Amazing Planet Earth by Scott Emmons
- The First Space Missions by Megan Cooley Peterson
- The Case from Outer Space (Jigsaw Jones Mysteries) by James Preller